1. On 2 July 1953, an order to reduce the crude oil charge of a number of plants at the Schwechat Refinery was revoked. The order had been in effect since 8 May 1953, when it was announced by the Director of the Schwechat Refinery, Istomin (fnu). The order had resulted in lowering the output of a number of refined products. With the revocation of the order, production at Schwechat was restored to full capacity.

2. Two oil pipelines between the Schwechat Refinery and Wifo Lobau, which had been out of service since 14 May 1953 have been repaired and returned to service. The repair work was completed on 23 July 1953.
